Another Actor Is Silent

He Refuses Any Data on Whether He Was CP Member; Was 18th Witness

NEW YORK (AP)—Actor Alan Manson, named in previous testimony as a one-time member of the Communist party today refused to tell the House Un-American Activities Committee whether he had been a party member.

Manson was the 18th witness to appear before the committee here in its probe of Communist infiltration into show business. He was the 17th witness to balk at answering questions about possible Communist affiliations.

Actor George Hall admitted to the committee yesterday that he once had been a card-carrying member of the Communist party named six other actors, including Manson, he said were members with him of the midtown branch of the party.

Manson told the committee that he did not believe it had the authority to inquire into his personal beliefs and associations. He invoked the First, Fifth and Ninth Amendments to the Constitution in refusing to answer.

The First Amendment guarantees free speech, the Fifth involves possible self-incrimination and the Ninth provides that the enumeration in the Constitution of certain rights shall not be construed as denying others retained by the people.

Manson told the committee he is 36 years old, was born in Brooklyn and that he had appeared in a number of Broadway shows and television performances after his discharge from military service in 1946.

The actor said that in recent years he has been unable to obtain much work and that lately his employment has consisted almost entirely of appearances in summer stock.

After Hall—the 12th witness—admitted yesterday he had been a Communist, five other persons took the stand and refused to answer committee questions on constitutional grounds.

The first 11 witnesses also balked at questions during the first three days of hearings.

Madeline Lee, 32, actress and wife of comedian Jack Guilford yesterday cited the First, Fourth, Fifth and Eighth amendments.

She cited the Fourth Amendment on the grounds that the inquiry constituted "illegal search and seizure and deprivation of the only thing I have to sell, my talent," and the eighth on the ground she could not be subjected to "cruel and unusual punishment."

Like other balking witnesses, she pleaded the First Amendment, which guarantees freedom of speech, and the fifth, which provides that a person may not be compelled to testify against himself.

Another witness was George Keane, one of six persons named by Hall as having been Communists. Keane appeared in "The Seven Year Itch" and "Brigadoon."

Fair Weather Prevails With Small Rain Hope

KANSAS CITY (AP)—More fair days with little change in temperatures is the forecast for Missouri.

There was no mention of rain, a scarce commodity in the state during the past 10 days. Malden reported .06 for the 24 hour period ending this morning, and West Plains had a trace.

The state's high temperature yesterday was a 93, recorded at St. Joseph, Kirksville, Butler and St. Louis. The record high for the date is 103, recorded in Kansas City in 1936.

Farmington had the state's low, a 62, this morning.

A Steady Rise

Typical of the temperature change is today's range of 26 degrees from 67 at 7 in the morning to 93 at the hottest part of the day, at 2 p.m. That means that there was a steady rise of more than three degrees every hour.

Mostly fair and warm tonight and Friday. High Friday in lower 90s. Low tonight in upper 60s.

The temperature at 7 a.m. was 67; 92 at 1 p.m. and 93 at 2 p.m.

The temperature one year ago today, high 100, low 78; two years ago, high 83, low 62; and three years ago, high 85, low 61, with .35 inch of rain.

Stage at Lake of the Ozarks 56.5 steady.

Fair Parade Saturday Morn, Long March Through City

The Missouri State Fair parade will start promptly at 10 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 20, at Seventh and Ohio and will go north on Ohio to Main, west on Main to Osage, south on Osage to Third, west on Third to State Fair Blvd. and south on State Fair Blvd. to the Fair Grounds. The parade in its entirety will go to Liberty Park, then on Third about even with the swimming pool the high school bands will get in buses and continue on with the parade to the Fair Grounds while the Saddle Clubs will leave the parade at the stadium.

The parade is sponsored by the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce, and Jack Faber, executive manager, states that the cooperation of the towns and units have been wonderful in their response to take part in "Missouri On Parade."

Eight groups are working on floats and Faber, who has been

Fire Destroys Home Northeast Of Knob Noster

Wednesday at 11 p.m., the commodious modern seven-room farm house owned by John Makeever, Knob Noster, northeast of that city, was destroyed by fire entailing a loss on the dwelling of about $8,000.

It was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. George Jenkins and little daughter, three. The family in a downstairs bedroom had retired early and were awakened by smelling smoke fumes. The upper portion of the house was afire from some undetermined cause. The Jenkins family was able to escape with but a portion of their clothing. Household goods were destroyed.

A run from Warrensburg was made by the Johnson County Farm Fire truck and firefighters from there, augmented by some volunteers from the S.A.F.B., were unable to save the structure but fortunately a large tank used for watering turkeys on the farm had a liberal supply of water and this was used in protecting other buildings on the premises.

Tanks Break Loose; Kill Four Soldiers

TILSHEAD, England (AP)—Two British tanks still on the secret list broke loose from their hillside moorings early today and ploughed through tents of sleeping troops, killing four and injuring four others.

A British army south command spokesman said no one was in the tanks—named Charioteers.

The soldiers were national service men or reservists doing two weeks' annual training.

Rains Hit Japanese Town, Killing Four

SAPPORO, Japan (AP)—The heaviest rainfall in 67 years swept away seven houses here today, flooded 1,818 others and left 4 people dead and 6 missing.

Police said 26 bridges had been washed away, there were two minor landslides and railway beds were damaged.

Ten towns in all were hit in Hokkaido, Japan's northernmost island.

Missouri Reports 16 New Polio Outbreaks

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Missouri had 16 new polio cases last week, the State Division of Health reported today. They raised the total for the year to 91.

For the same week a year ago, the new infantile paralysis cases totaled 49.

Korea-Japan Feuding Brings Trading Halt

SEOUL (AP)—South Korea today ordered a halt to nearly all trade with Japan in its rising feud with its Asian neighbor and former overlord.

Only yesterday, South Korea disclosed it had "completely banned" Koreans from making business or personal trips to Japan.

Kang Sung Tai, South Korean minister of commerce and industry, in a statement said "all export and import permits for Japan-Korea trade will be refused as will customs clearance of goods."

Employees May Receive Quick Job Dismissal

Court of Appeals Rules Quick Firing For Inefficiency

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Court of Appeals ruled today that government agencies may use "quickie" procedure to fire workers on charges of inefficiency.

Under the procedure it is possible to dismiss an employee almost summarily.

The court held government agencies, if they see fit, may follow procedures provided by the Lloyd-LaFollette Act of 1912, the basic Civil Service law, instead of the Performance Rating Act of 1950.

Some dismissal proceedings under the latter law have dragged on for well over a year. Under it, the first step is to give an employee a rating of unsatisfactory and 90 days in which to improve his work. Following that, an employee is entitled to an involved series of appeals.

Under the Lloyd-LaFollette Act which the courts say may still be used, charges are filed, a hearing held and a ruling made. The entire procedure may be completed within a week or so.

The court ruled in the case of William E. Ward who was removed as a civilian personnel officer in the Marine Corps Air Station at Cherry Point, N.C., in June 1951.

Ward claimed his removal was illegal and raised the legal point that it violated the Performance Rating Act of 1950 since he had not received an unsatisfactory rating.

The decision reversed a ruling in District Court that Ward's removal from the classified Civil Service was illegal.

Lumberman Reports Robbery from Home

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Roy Laxton, a lumber dealer, told police $20,900 in cash was stolen from his home yesterday.

Laxton, who has an office in his home, said the money was to have been used to pay for a shipment of lumber. He said he was supervising unloading of the shipment when the burglary occurred.

Laxton, who said the money wasn't insured, told officers he always paid cash for shipments. He said the front door of the house had been forced open and the money taken from a dresser drawer. A diamond ring valued at $1,072 also was taken, he said.

5 Dead, 10 Injured In St. Joseph Wrecks

ST. JOSEPH (AP)—Four persons were killed yesterday and a fifth died today as a result of two high-way accidents near here. Ten were injured in the accidents.

Killed in a car-truck collision yesterday were Mrs. John Lange, 46, and Ole P. Olson, 76, both of Elkhorn, Iowa, and Mrs. Genyieve Umbdenstock, 31, of Festus, Mo. Olson's wife died early today.

The other victim, also killed in a car-truck collision was Mrs. Myrtle David of Mound City, Mo.

Would Sell More Atomic Matter Abroad

Work on a Method To Sell More And Cheaper Materials

GENEVA (AP)—The United States is trying to work out means of increasing its distribution of radioactive isotopes to foreign countries and a possible reduction in some prices, Dr. Willard Libby, a member of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, said today.

At a news conference, he hailed the accomplishments and potentialities of these ray-emitting materials which already are responsible, he said, for industrial savings of "many hundreds of millions of dollars—maybe billions—in the various countries of the world."

Isotopes are also made by other countries, including Britain.

Surveys show that American and domestic distribution of isotopes—useful in medical, agricultural and industrial research and application—at present "far outstrips the foreign distribution," Libby told newsmen.

Libby declared that more sensitive instruments—and lower prices than present ones—are needed for further potential applications of certain isotopes.

An example, he said, was the possible future use by family physicians of "radioactive pills" to be given to patients "to find out about the malfunctioning of your body."

It was pointed out that radioactive isotopes can already do such things as that, but require handling by trained experts.

But if more sensitive instruments for detecting the rays within the body were developed, it would then be possible for any family physician to use a much smaller amount than is now needed, and therefore assure safety for the patient in routine use.

Libby said that as a result of reports on uses of isotopes submitted by the conference, "it is clear that isotopes constitute a very substantial peacetime use of atomic energy."

Desert Cloudbursts Block Trains, Roads

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Flash floods from desert cloudbursts, temporarily blocked rail connections between Los Angeles and Las Vegas, Nev.

Union Pacific eastbound trains are being routed over the Santa Fe line south of Las Vegas, dispatchers said. Some trains will be as much as 12 hours late.

The floods blocked the UP right-of-way last night at three points in California near the Nevada border. For a while the main highway link, U.S. 91, also was closed.

American Farmers Close Russian Tour

RUBTSOVSK, Siberia (AP)—A group of 12 American farmers and agriculture specialists wound up a month's tour of the Soviet Union today viewing the virgin frontier lands here and in Akmolinsk, in the Kazakh Republic.

They were scheduled to join late today for a flight returning to Moscow.

The Americans viewing these land projects so vital to the future of the Soviet agriculture supply found much that was amazing.

Lauren Soth, Des Moines, Iowa, editor who had sparked the farmer tour exchange with the Soviet Union, asked if the army personnel that Russia has announced it will demobilize will go to work in the virgin lands area.

The answer: "Some will."

Given Jap Red Post After Five Years

The Japan Communist party announced his appointment as first secretary.

Nosaka succeeds Kyuichi Tokuda, whose death in Peiping in October 1953 was announced July 29.

Acclaim New Military Code, PW Conduct

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new military code calls on every captured fighting man to withstand enemy pressure to the utmost, but to avoid at all costs disclosure of vital military information and disloyalty to his country or his Drawing on experiences in the Korean War, it recognizes that physical and mental torture can force a man to the breaking point. It proposes idealistic standards and indoctrination to keep that breaking point high.

President Eisenhower proclaimed the new code yesterday and directed the military services to train all men to stand up to it, both in combat and in captivity.

It says that every American fighting man should be prepared: To give his life for his country. To refuse to surrender on his own initiative.

To continue resistance to pressures after capture. To keep faith with his fellow prisoners.

The code holds to the loftiest ideals of bravery, but recognizes, as Gen. John E. Hull phrased it, that "any man can be broken if enough pressure is put on him."

Hull, onetime supreme commander in the Far East, was vice chairman of a committee of retired officers and civilian officials which drew up the code and an accompanying report.

It officially relaxes for the first time the old requirement that a man give his captors only his name, rank and serial number.

That remains the first line of defense, to which he should hold if he can. The code calls on him to avoid answering other questions "to the utmost of my ability."

Japanese Protest Prisoner Treatment

TOKYO (AP)—Japan today accused South Korea of illegally holding 542 Japanese fishermen in filthy, jammed prisons ruled by whip-carrying guards.

The foreign office, in a blistering press release, said crew members of 102 Japanese boats were being fed food filled with bugs and sand and were suffering from diarrhea and malnutrition.

"The treatment they are receiving from Korean authorities is extremely unjust," the paper said. The conditions were brought to light by interviews with returned fishermen who had served time in the prisons, a spokesman said.

All were picked up for violating the so-called "Rhee" fishing line, extending up to 60 miles off the Korean coast.

Peron's Party Tightens

Starts a Campaign For Recruits, New Vigor; Old Peace Program Dropped

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—A semi-official voice of President Juan D. Peron's government proclaimed today the start of a campaign for recruits and renewed vigor in the ranks of the Peronistas—the nation's ruling party.

As beelied-up police forces patrolled the streets of the capital in the wake of a three-day reign of disorders, the newspaper Democracia said in a front page statement the Peronista party had kept quiet for a month because of the "pacification" campaign which followed the June 16 revolt.

But now, it continued, because of rejection of the truce by Peron's political foes and fresh outbursts of street fighting between police and anti-Peron crowds, the party must give "new tonic" to its followers.

The party, Democracia said, is "on the point of a proselyting activity which will mark the beginning of a renovating stage in the ranks" of the party.

Buenos Aires was calm this morning under a heavy thunderstorm. But peace seemed remote.

Justice and Interior Minister Oscar Albioe accused seven priests in Buenos Aires of using the pulpit to incite a "campaign of disobedience" against Peron.

He said no action had been taken yet against the priests but that their names would be handed over to church authorities.

"Tolerance has its limit," he said, "and we cannot continue tolerating these things because that would in effect concur with them."

He told newsmen the government would resume its political campaign against the church leaders. But the regime, he added, would not abandon the policy of "pacification" Peron proclaimed in an attempt to restore order after the bloody abortive revolt of June 16. Until this week, the government had virtually stifled its attacks on the church since the revolt.

Commenting on the Peronista party's announcement Tuesday that it was resuming its "political crusade," Albioe said the opposition groups brought this on themselves by rejecting the government's proffered truce. The opposition Radical and Democratic (conservative) parties demanded that Peron restore civil liberties.

Albioe did not indicate what form the pacification policy now would take.

Yesterday's violence disrupted the holiday marking the 105th anniversary celebration of the death of Gen. Jose de San Martin, who liberated Argentina from Spain.

The skirmishes—many punctuated by shots—broke out before dawn yesterday and continued intermittently until last night in downtown Buenos Aires. Police scattered hundreds of demonstrators with tear gas and fire hoses, but new fights kept erupting.

It was not known how many persons have been injured or arrested since the trouble began Monday, but the figure is expected to be high.

Tax Lien to Be Taken From Track Winnings

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—The department of internal revenue has entered the horse racing field in an effort to satisfy a $7,504 tax lien against the estate of J. Fred Koenig, slain East St. Louis gambler.

The department issued a levy to impound the winnings of three horses—Poltrone, Attract and Honey Bear—at the nearby Cahokia Downs Track yesterday.

Koenig reportedly owned a half interest in the horses. The tax lien has been pending against Koenig for some time. His body, riddled with bullets, was found stuffed in the trunk of his car on an East St. Louis street in June. The case has not been solved.

Sen. Capehart Says Truman Will Aid GOP

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.) said today Republicans will welcome as an "asset" to them any campaigning former President Truman does for the Democrats in 1936.

"The American people have the utmost confidence in President Eisenhower and are perfectly satisfied with his record," Capehart said. "I don't think anything Harry Truman says will change their minds."

Truman said in a telephone interview last night he is going to "tear into the Republicans" in a series of speeches beginning at French Lick, Ind., Aug. 27. He said he will talk politics at Mackinac Island, Mich., Aug. 29, in Detroit Sept. 5 at a Labor Day rally and at two subsequent Democratic dinners in California.

"We'll beat the Republicans with their own ammunition," he said. "I am going to do all I can to help restore the government of this country to the people—I'll be available right along to the Democratic National Committee," he said.

"I'm not revealing my own ammunition," he added, but indicated he will talk largely about domestic issues.

The Democratic committee has made increasing use of Truman since his recovery from a major operation last year. He has been the stellar attraction at major party rallies since Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1932 nominee, took a temporary leave from politics to tend to his private business.

Truman, who said he is feeling physically "tip top" at 71, pooh-poohed the idea that he might be a candidate himself, as suggested by Democratic Gov. James E. Folsom of Alabama. He said he is for Stevenson, but will support the Democratic convention's candidates.

Capehart said in an interview he thinks Truman's active entry into the campaign would revive the issues of "crony government" and "Democratic mess in Washington" used by the Republicans in the 1932 campaign.

"Truman's statements and speeches will be an asset to us," he said. "I wouldn't know what his issues will be but I don't think the people want to go back to Trumanism."

Long Court Speech Brings No Good Ends

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Traffic Judge James Demopolos never had heard a speech quite like it, especially from a defendant.

"I'm appalled at the reckless driving on main street," said 26-year-old Charles Hamilton Keegan. "It sickens my heart. It makes me ashamed of my fellow man. I'm trying to do my part to help correct it."

"Why then are you charged with reckless driving?" asked Judge Demopolos, stirring uneasily on the bench.

"Because I saw a teen-aged boy who I knew," Keegan came back quickly. "He was driving recklessly. I was trying to catch him so I could take him some place and give him a quiet lecture on the principals of safe driving. You see, I've never received a ticket before in my life."

The judge whispered to his bailiff and shortly afterwards a file was brought into the courtroom.

It showed that Keegan had been arrested six times for traffic violations during recent weeks.

"Is that your record?" asked the judge.

"I guess so, your honor," Keegan replied.

He paid a $20 fine.

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Judging of Holstein and Ayrshire cattle will be a featured attraction at the Ozark Empire fair today.

District No. 1, which includes counties in southwest Missouri, won top honors for the best herd in the Jersey show yesterday. W. N. Burney, Aurora, exhibited the grand champion bull.

In the milking shorthorn show, Hart Farm, Mt. Vernon, displayed the winning bull, and Lilydale Farm of Springfield had the champion cow.

The first four days of the fair attracted 93,931, an increase of 10,000 over last year's attendance. The fair ends Friday.

Phillip Crosby Will Get Back X-Rays

FT. LEWIS, Wash. (AP)—Madigan Army Hospital doctors planned more X-rays today on Pvt. Phillip Crosby, 21-year-old son of singer Bing Crosby, to get an exact picture of his back injuries.

The young soldier's car went off a highway at Raymond, in southwestern Washington, into a riverbed Sunday and he suffered a fracture of one or more vertebrae. An ambulance brought him here yesterday. He had to wear a traction on his neck but his back was not in a cast.

Hunted Killer Escapes Trap; Officer Shot

CHICAGO (AP)—A 26-year-old convict, hunted for the killing of a detective Monday night, shot and seriously wounded a rookie policeman in a gun fight last night in a movie theater.

The slayer, believed wounded, fled while some 250 persons watched the movie. Several screamed as shots exploded but there was no panic.

Police stepped up their search for the gunman, Richard Carpenter, who Monday night killed Detective William J. Murphy, 34, in a gun battle in a subway station.

Nearly 500 officers were sent into the Northwest Side district around the Baltimore Theater, where policeman Clarence Kerr, 25, was shot last night.

"The gunman was Carpenter, and we know he is wounded," said Philip Breitzke, deputy commissioner. "He's somewhere around here, we know, and we'll get him."

Breitzke said there was a trail of blood from the theater aisle to the rear exit. Carpenter fled through the rear door after shooting Kerr in the chest.

Kerr, at St. Mary's Hospital, told Robert E. Ryan, deputy chief of the uniform force, that he and his wife Marion, 24, had gone to the theater. He believed a man in a nearby seat was Carpenter. He took his wife to their car and returned to the theater, sitting down in the seat next to the man he believed was Carpenter. Kerr, with his gun in his hand, told the man: "You look like a man we are looking for."

The man replied: "All right, I guess you've got me." Kerr, a member of the department only 10 months, ordered the man to leave the theater with him. As they got to the main aisle,

The policeman emptied his gun at him, firing five shots at point blank range and the sixth as he fled to the rear exit.

The Has Fine Trout Catch On Vacation

FRASER, Colo. (AP)—Delighted over landing a two-pound Rocky Mountain trout, President Eisenhower today held the "biggest catch" championship at his secluded vacation retreat here.

He reeled in the trout yesterday in the first few seconds of 3 1/2 hours of fishing in cold St. Louis Creek. He also caught several other smaller trout, and his 7-year-old grandson David—fly casting for the first time—hailed in two 12-inchers weighing under a pound. The youngster fished a quiet pond.

In addition to fishing, Eisenhower got in some golf practice shots, started painting a mountain scene, did nearly all the cooking for his party—and turned out quite a bit of work to boot.

Seated in the living room of his cottage 8,700 feet high in the Rockies, he signed an executive order providing for a new code of conduct for American servicemen who become prisoners in another war.

In an accompanying statement, he said:

"No American prisoner of war will be forgotten by the United States. Every available means will be employed by our government to establish contact with, to support and obtain the release of all our prisoners of war."

The President also:

1. Signed a proclamation formally completing United States approval of the Paris agreements providing for rearming a sovereign West Germany.

2. Chose Robert H. Thayer, a national security affairs specialist, to be minister to Communist Romania, succeeding career Diplomat Harold Shantz, who is retiring.

3. Picked John M. Cashin, of Kingston, N.Y., to be a federal district judge for southern New York state.

4. Accepted the resignation of Archie A. Alexander as governor of the Virgin Islands. Alexander, target of recent demonstrations against his policies, said he was resigning because of "the urgent admonitions of my medical advisers."

The President drove here Tuesday from the Denver Summer White House to be the guest until Sunday of an old friend, Aksel Nielsen. Eisenhower and his grandson, who arrived from a Colorado boys camp Tuesday evening, are staying in a new cottage at Nielsen's Byers Peak Ranch.

All advance indications had been that grandfather Eisenhower would give David his first fly-casting lesson. But the President turned the job over to Nielsen and some of the Secret Service agents.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, told newsmen that the President and Nielsen together caught about 16 trout. The daily limit for each fisherman is 10.

Hagerty explained to reporters that the President shunned the placid pond where David fished because that kind of setup "is not his dish."

Claim $60,480 Gift From Dead Friend

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—His friendship for a Milwaukee optometrist caused Fred A. Thomas a lot of trouble but the red-haired restaurant worker will get $5,000 from the man's estate.

Dr. Albert Napientek, the optometrist, died in a Miami Beach hotel room last April 13.

A week later Thomas was found in a motel room at Dunedin with $60,480 of Napientek's money under the bed. Thomas claimed the optometrist gave him the cash to invest in a barbecue stand, but a charge of larceny was filed.

Harold Shapiro, attorney for Napientek's widow, said yesterday Thomas has agreed to settle his claim for $5,000.

County Judge Frank Dowling is expected to turn the money over to the widow, as executrix of Napientek's estate, tomorrow.

Thomas still faces the larceny charge but that is expected to be dropped.

Sum Up Cases Today In Court-Martial

NEW YORK (AP)—Both sides sum up today in the court-martial of Sgt. James C. Gallagher, accused of collaborating with the enemy and of unpremeditated murder of three fellow Americans in a North Korean POW camp.

The 23-year-old Gallagher, from Brooklyn, has denied all charges against him.

The prosecution contends Gallagher carried favor with the Chinese Reds and threw three ailing POWs from a prison hut and left them to die in the freezing cold.

Gallagher faces a possible maximum penalty of life imprisonment.

8-Year-Old Finds And Tries Handcuffs

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Eight-year-old Phillip French kissed at some old newspapers on the beach yesterday and made a fascinating find—an obsolete pair of handcuffs.

Naturally, he tried them, on his ankles. Just as naturally, he couldn't get 'em off. He hobbled to a nearby hamburger stand run by his mother Mrs. Richard French.

She hustled him to police headquarters. Sgt. Robert Houghton tried all manner of keys and finally found one that set Phillip free.

Citizens Would Take Pills--

US Works On a New Method To Combat Atomic Radiation

GENEVA (AP)—The United States is working intensively on a triple-barreled method of protection against the effects of atomic radiation.

If the method proves applicable to humans, you would take a pill of a chemical called "thiuronium" as soon as the warning sounded for an atomic attack or an atomic plant accident.

Immediately after exposure to radiation, you would get an injection of bone marrow to help recovery from any radiation effects not covered by the original pill.

Finally a shot of streptomycin would reduce the bacterial infection which is potentially high in cases of radiation damage.

Dr. Alexander Hollaender of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission laboratory at Oak Ridge, Tenn., described the combination treatment last night at the atoms-for-peace conference.

Hollaender said the three-step treatment enabled 50 per cent of a group of mice to survive three times the amount of radiation they could otherwise have endured.

But he emphasized: "It will take at least another year or two before some of the questions can be settled and before one would consider it for human application."

Hollaender stressed the need for finding means of protection from radiation that might be encountered with the expansion of peaceful uses of atomic energy. He did not mention radiation from atomic attack, but the implication was clear that protection against industrial radiation also would help in the event of nuclear warfare.

The American scientist said the major question still unanswered is whether thiuronium is too toxic for man in doses strong enough to give a high degree of protection. In animal studies, he said, it appears to be less toxic than two other related substances which also have shown high protective effects.

The AEC is working with the University of Rochester, N. Y., in further experiments on the method.

Hollaender also told the conference a new finding—demonstrated so far only in bacteria—shows that the process of genetic or hereditary change requires considerable time to be completed after radiation has been absorbed.

"During this time," he said, "it is possible to do something about it. We can prevent a high percentage of mutations (changes in cells bearing hereditary characteristics) to be realized by either treatment before or after exposure."

Pointing out that this finding may be of "considerable importance to the human race," Hollaender said he "unfortunately" was not able to report whether it would apply to mammals.

"Experiments to check this on mammals have been started and it will take several years to obtain even preliminary data, he explained.

Hollaender said persons who are exposed to "significant" amounts of radiation should avoid conception for several weeks afterward.

Experiments with mice, he explained, show that sufficiently severe radiation can damage chromosomes in the male sex sperm.

Sufficient dosage, he added, can result in "stillbirth or other detrimental effects" in the offspring.

For The Birds

RINGGOLD, Ga. — Norman Allen, a firecracker distributor offers a rope to hang those crop pests — the blackbirds. The law prohibits killing them. Allen devised a firecracker bird rope from an idea originated by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service and county agents. It consists of a five-foot length of 5/16-inch cotton plow line, with specially made firecrackers fused into it one inch apart.

The farmer hangs the rope from a pole and lights the bottom end. Each firecracker falls to the ground before exploding. One rope will protect a four to five acre area all day, Allen says, giving off blasts at regular intervals. Several days of the firecracker rope action, he adds, will keep the area clear of blackbirds permanently.

Lions Hear M. U. Senior Speak on Milk

Miss Marilyn Anderson, Cass County, was the principal speaker at the Sedalia Lions Wednesday, using as her subject, "Milk Consumption." Miss Anderson, a senior at the University of Missouri, is serving her course as an apprentice home extension agent out of the Pettis County Extension office.

She recently was one of four Missourians to attend the 4-H National Camp at Washington, D.C. Upon her return from the camp she completed a milk survey of Pettis County as to the amount used by Pettis County families.

She reported on the amount of consumption, its need to the human body and a comparison of that which should be consumed by infants, children and adults, and the amount which in accordance with the survey is used. Miss Anderson reported it is surprising how little milk is consumed as compared to what should be, but went on to explain there is more consumption of milk than the average person realizes—not through drinking it, but through the foods in which milk is used in preparation.

Miss Anderson was introduced by Miss Opal O'Brian, Pettis County home extension agent. Miss O'Brian was introduced by program chairman Don King.

Guests at the meeting were Daniel Chew, Fred Crnic and Jim Bowers, all of St. Louis.

John Ellison, president, conducted the meeting.

Nehru Announces 22 Now Killed In 'Peace March'

NEW DELHI, India — Prime Minister Nehru said today the number of dead in the march on Goa and other Portuguese possessions in India last Monday "now is presumed to be 22."

In his third statement to Parliament in as many days on the "peaceful invasion" of Portuguese India, he reported 225 marchers were wounded and 2 still are missing.

In the total of fatalities, Nehru was adding to the 16 dead he reported Tuesday the 7 victims already cremated inside Goa. His figures were supplied by the Bombay state government.

The Indian demonstrators had launched what they called a "peaceful invasion" to take over the enclaves Portugal refuses to give up.

Communist leaders said Nehru's speech in Parliament yesterday in which he apologized for damage to foreign diplomatic and information offices during Goa protest demonstrations Tuesday was "a humiliating document."

They issued a statement to newspapers saying instead of being critical the Prime Minister should have "paid tribute to the massive emotions of our people which has made them feel proud and exhilarated."

Two Jet Pilots Die in Trainer Crash Near Centralia, Ill.

CENTRALIA, Ill. — A Navy jet trainer plane crashed and burned in a corn field about 15 miles east of here today, killing the two airmen aboard.

Sgt. Nelson Page of the state police said papers found in the wreckage indicated the victims were pilots stationed at the Glenview Naval Air Station near Chicago.

Witnesses reported hearing an explosion in the air and then seeing the plane crash in flames. They said they heard another explosion just as it hit the ground. Wreckage was scattered for a quarter of a mile across the farm field.

The plane had just passed over Kell, a small town in Marion County. It tore a 60-foot furrow where it struck and seared about a quarter of an acre of the corn field.

The crash occurred at 10:15 a. m. The bodies were hurled from the plane. They were found about 500 feet from the wreckage, badly burned and mangled.

St. Louisan Killed On Hunting Trip

ST. LOUIS — Richard A. Howery, 17-year-old youth of suburban Overland, was shot to death today in a hunting accident in St. Louis County.

A companion, James Vieten, 17, told St. Louis County police Howery stepped in front of him just as his 12-gauge shotgun discharged. Both youths were preparing to fire at a squirrel in a tree.

Howery was the son of Mrs. Helen Howery of Overland. Howery and Vieten were neighbors.

CIVIC CENTER GIFT—Harry S. Nauzel, president of the Civic Center Board, is shown receiving the $50 given by Col. E. G. Cade for the Center from Jack Faber, executive manager of the Chamber of Commerce. The $50 was a gift received by Col. Cade, 340th TAC Hospital, Sedalia Air Force Base at the picnic for the SAFB sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night.

SAFB Spends Over Million In Surrounding Communities

Over a million dollars a year! That's the amount spent by Sedalia Air Force Base in purchasing supplies and equipment from merchants and manufacturers in nearby communities.

In their efforts to stretch the taxpayer's dollar as far as possible, the Air Force supply experts are coming to rely more and more upon the civilian businessman in cities near the base. Purchases made locally save the Air Force—and the taxpayer—the cost of depot handling, storage and shipping. Officials have announced there will be a total of 325,000 items on the local purchase list by the end of June, 1956.

Even without this addition, the local purchasing section at Sedalia

Marines Order New Vehicles For Production

WASHINGTON — The Marine Corps today ordered production of a hit-and-run armed vehicle that the Army originally developed but discarded.

The two services jointly announced award of a 13-million dollar contract to the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co. of Milwaukee, Wis., for an undisclosed number of "Ontos", which is a green word meaning "The Thing."

Production will start at the company's plant in La Porte, Ind., in August, 1956, and be completed about one year later.

Ontos carries six 106mm recoilless rifles on a chassis mounted conventional tank. The Thing depends on the speed with which its rifles can be trained on a target and its high maneuverability rather than upon protective armor.

Ontos is equipped with four 50 caliber spotting rifles. When the vehicle comes within range of a target, the Ontos gunner fires his rifle until its tracer bullets flash on the target.

The gunner may then start firing his big, recoilless rifles automatically, knowing that they are geared to the little spotting gun. The big rifles can be fired singly, in pairs, or in a salvo.

Lutherans Postpone Action On Split

SAGINAW, Mich. — The Evangelical Lutheran Synods of Wisconsin and Other States will delay until the fall of next year a decision on whether to sever religious ties with the Missouri Synod.

Delegates to the Wisconsin synod's 33rd biennial convention voted 94-7 yesterday to postpone action. The convention ended yesterday.

The group's union committee had recommended the delay. It said the resolution to break the altar and pulpit ties shared since 1872 with the Missouri group would have "far reaching spiritual consequences."

Committee said it felt the Missouri group ought to have an "opportunity to express itself" as a corporate body at its triennial convention in the summer of 1956.

Some two dozen convention delegates insisted on going on record as opposing the delay.

Air Force Base—known as the Purchasing and Contracting Office—is a big business. They spend an average of $100,000 each month for supplies, equipment and certain non-personal services.

Usually, the process of making a local purchase works like this: a unit which requires supplies makes its request to Base Supply. Supply locates the item in its files which designate the request as either a local purchase or a depot supply item. Local purchases are turned over to the Purchasing and Contracting Office which then must locate a source of supply. If the purchase order is large enough, requests for bids are sent out to competing companies and the order is awarded to the company which can deliver the best product at the cheapest price.

Most of the local purchases are made for such things as hardware, hand tools, automotive parts, vehicle fuel and petroleum products. They also purchase many of the items sold at the commissary as well as the bread and dairy products served in the mess halls.

While the office is able to satisfy most requests with a minimum of difficulty, once in a while a request will have the buyers stumped. For example, right now the office is looking for a supply of rabbit snares. This isn't as unusual a request as it might seem for the snares are a part of the survival kits carried by every bomber crew.

One thing is certain: the Purchasing and Contracting Office will take care of this request as it does all the hundreds of others that come under its jurisdiction each month. By doing their job well, the men in this section are helping to build a better Air Force, saving money for the government and strengthening businesses in their neighboring communities.

Russian Farmers Have Full Travel Schedule For Three More Weeks

FRESNO, Calif. — The 10 man Soviet farm delegation continues its race south through productive California farmlands today.

The Russians left here this morning. Their goal for the night was Riverside and tomorrow night they planned to be in Los Angeles.

Today the Russians and the Americans assisting them were scheduled to see a vineyard near here and then drive to Exeter to lunch in the Veterans Memorial Hall.

In the afternoon they were to observe land development, canal irrigation and cotton production in Kern County.

The Russians were well tired from travelling. They have been on the go virtually every day of the month they have been in the United States. Now they have one more week before they leave this country—for a two weeks visit to Canada.

Teacher Dies at 106

KINGSBRIDGE, England — Mrs. Sarah Green, 106 and believed to be Britain's oldest school teacher, died today.

Russian Tour Impresses Clergymen

MOSCOW — The four American Baptist clergymen who made a two-week visit to Russian Baptists left Moscow today, "profoundly impressed" by what they have seen.

The Rev. Theodore F. Adams of Richmond, Va., president of the Baptist World Alliance; the Rev. V. Carney Hargrove of Philadelphia; and the Rev. Joseph H. Jackson of Chicago, are returning to the United States. The Rev. Dr. Arnold T. Orn of Washington, D.C., general secretary of the World Alliance, will visit Norway.

Before their departure, the Rev. Mr. Adams and Dr. Orn were interviewed jointly by a reporter of Tass, the Soviet news agency. The story published in newspapers throughout the Soviet Union said:

"Arnold T. Orn said he had been profoundly impressed by the religious life in the places they had visited. Wherever they went they were constantly aware of the extreme friendliness of the people they met in churches and elsewhere.

"The Rev. Mr. Theodore F. Adams subscribed to that statement and said he had visited the U.S.S.R. 20 years ago. Since then, in his opinion, there has been great material advance in the life of the Soviet people. He praised the beauty of the southern resorts of the U.S.S.R. which were accessible to so many people."

"Mr. Adams added that they could go wherever they liked during their trip and met with no restrictions in learning things they wanted to know.

Three Youths Injured After Car Overtakes

COLUMBIA — Three Columbia teenagers were slightly injured when the car in which they were riding overturned and burned last night on Highway 124 near Hallsville, the highway patrol reported.

A fourth passenger in the car was unhurt, the patrol said.

Frederick Chapman, 16, driver of the car, suffered minor burns on one arm. Miss Julie Ann Matthews, 16, suffered a bruised right shoulder, and Walter Kent Smith, 15, was burned on both arms.

All three received private medical aid.

Miss Donna Rae Kewley, 14, was not injured.

Chapman told the patrol his car ran off the road after he pulled over to allow another car to pass. He said it struck a culvert and overturned.

Miss Matthews noticed after the crash that her purse was missing, Chapman said, and when they struck matches to look for it the spilled gasoline ignited and spread to the car.

The patrol said the purse was found after the blaze was extinguished. It contained fragments of several one-dollar bills.

The car, valued at $70, was demolished, the patrol said.

Una Schmidt-Fine Might Now Lose Both Her Husbands

SACRAMENTO, Calif. — Una Schmidt-Fine, who a week ago was in the dilemma of choosing between two husbands — today faced the possibility that she may have none.

The attorney for Daniel Schmidt, 23-year-old Air Force gunner who returned from 32 months in a Communist Chinese prison camp to find his wife had married again, said Schmidt is "not interested in taking Una back."

In Nevada City, Una's attorney, Harold Berliner, said Alford Fine, 21, the logger Una says she married in the belief Schmidt had been killed in Korea, had left her for a job in another town.

Her reconciliation hopes got encouragement from one source: Schmidt's mother, Mrs. Nellie Peters, told the Associated Press in Portland the 20-year-old Una had pleaded with her by long distance telephone on Monday to help her get Daniel back.

Mrs. Peters said she has not given up hope of a reconciliation, that she will have to hear it from Schmidt before she believes Daniel and Una are through.

$1.75 Haircuts Lose, Voted Down by 5-1

ST. LOUIS — St. Louis barbers, by a six-to-one margin, last night voted down a proposal to boost the price of haircuts to $1.75.

A motion to raise the present $1.50 price was defeated at a meeting of 900 members of Local 102 of the AFL Journeymen Barbers' International Union.

Union officials said the resolution needed a two-thirds majority to carry. Present prices will remain in effect at least until March when the union's contract expires.

Kansas City To Handle All Money Orders

The daily task of processing a stack of paid Postal Money Orders one and one-half times the height of the Washington Monument and weighing approximately three and one-third tons, will be greatly speeded up after October 1, 1955, by the installation of a single postal money order accounting office in Kansas City in place of the 12 now in operation. Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield said today.

"This centrally located installation at Kansas City," Summerfield said, "will enable the Post Office Department to streamline another part of its accounting system. In this one accounting set-up will be processed the approximately 380 million money orders that are purchased annually."

The Postmaster General pointed out that a money order, under the present system, may travel as much as 9,000 miles before being permanently filed. For example, a money order purchased in Los Angeles and sent to New York, first comes from the plant in Washington, D.C., where it was manufactured, to the Regional Accounting Office for distribution to the Los Angeles Post Office for purchase by the patron and mailing back across the country to New York, where it is cashed. The local bank then deposits it in the nearest Federal Reserve Bank or branch which, in turn, sends it back to the local Regional Accounting Office for audit purposes. It is then returned to the Accounting Office in the region where the purchase was made.

After Oct. 1, the 36 Federal Reserve banks and branches will ship money orders deposited with them directly to the center in Kansas City. This will eliminate more than one-fourth of the travel which the money orders must now go through.

"The new Kansas City Accounting Headquarters," Summerfield explained, "will be well equipped to handle the enormous amount of money orders which will pour into it from all parts of the country. Key personnel will be transferred from other offices to make certain that this operation runs at top efficiency."

"This move to Kansas City," Summerfield added, "is in line with the Post Office Department's program of setting up functions of the Department so as to operate as efficiently as modern business methods dictate. We feel certain that this particular program will result in improved service for patrons and savings for the American taxpayer."

Great Features back up Chevrolet Performance: Anti-Dive Braking—Ball-Race Steering—Outrigger Rear Springs—Body by Fisher—12-Volt Electrical System—Nine Engine-Drive Choices in all models—and, finally, the great scientific, technical and engineering resources of General Motors.

The new Chevrolet has proved itself all K-I-N-G in today's toughest driving competition!

Starting at Daytona Beach last winter, the new Chevrolet swept aside all competition in its class in acceleration tests.

It lambasted every car in its field and all but one of the high-priced cars down there on the fast, furious frontier of NASCAR*-sponsored trials.

And since then what's happened: The latest figures on hand show that so far Chevrolet has piled up a total of 196 points in NASCAR Short Track Standings—which puts Chevrolet in FIRST PLACE with a commanding lead of 99 points over its nearest rival! And that rival is a medium-priced car!

What makes Chevrolet such a winner on the tracks? Faster acceleration, for one. Superior handling qualities, too—sure, steady cornering; quick, accurate steering; and smooth, positive braking. And these very same things clearly mean more safety and pleasure for you on the modern frontiers of our nation—our highways!

When would you like to try out this new King? Why not make it real soon!

Agriculture Dept. Defends Cheese Buying

WASHINGTON —The Agriculture Department says it acted "solely in the interest of American farmers" in cheese transactions frowned on by Comptroller General Joseph Campbell.

The Department issued a statement yesterday saying it would carefully review Campbell's opinion that the deal with a number of cheese distributors was "unauthorized and improper." It did not say immediately whether it would seek to recover the estimated two million dollars paid out.

Involved were "purchase resale transactions" around April 1, 1954, when Secretary of Agriculture Benson lowered the cheese support rate from 90 to 75 per cent of parity, and cheese firms hurried to unload at the higher rate.

Under these deals, the government paid distributors 37 cents a pound for the cheese, at the 90 per cent level, then sold it back to them at 34½ cents, without ever taking actual possession of the products. The department said the arrangements were made to keep the cheese in commercial channels and thus readily available to consumers, and to avoid transportation costs.

The Department contended the transactions saved money for the taxpayers. Campbell said they cost the government about two million dollars.

The payments were said to have been made to about 100 distributors for about 90 million pounds of cheese.

Companies mentioned by subcommittee staffers included Kraft Foods Co., the Borden Co., the National Biscuit Co., A&P stores, H. J. Heinz Co., Superior Cheese Co. (a Safeway stores affiliate), and C. J. Berst & Co., Portage, Wis.

Airman's Mother Still Expects Reconciliation

PORTLAND, Ore. —The mother of Airman Daniel C. Schmidt says she has not given up hope of a reconciliation between him and his remarried wife Una.

The mother, Mrs. Nellie Peters, 43, said last night she would have to hear it from her son that he definitely was through with his "Danny never said anything like that to me," said Mrs. Peters, who has talked to her son by telephone since he came home to find Una married to another man. Mrs. Peters has not heard from Schmidt for several days but expects him to visit her soon.

She recalled that her son told her he was going to work out the problem himself but "now others have entered the picture and it doesn't sound like Danny any more."

Mrs. Peters was referring to a statement by Schmidt's attorney Howard Welch, of Sacramento, that Schmidt has made up his mind he does not want a reconciliation.

"There has been no one trying to get them back together," she said. "Even the lawyers don't seem to want them to try to piece it together again."

The former Mrs. Schmidt said she remarried in the belief Schmidt was dead. The young airman was recently released from Red Chinese captivity.

Charge White Men In Negro's Murder

BROOKHAVEN, Miss. —Three white men, charged with murder in the shotgun slaying of a 63-year-old Negro farmer, are free on $20,000 bond each today and await grand jury action next month.

Sheriff Bob Case of Lincoln County identified them as Noah Smith, 59, Mack Smith, 45, and Charles Falvey, 35. They are charged in the shooting of Lamar (Ditney) Smith on the lawn of the Brookhaven courthouse last Saturday.

The three waived preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace E. F. Allen and were bound over to the September grand jury.

The murdered man was reported to have urged other Negroes to cast absentee ballots in Mississippi's gubernatorial race.

Edgar Case, a distant relation to the sheriff, told The Associated Press in an interview last night he had received a threatening telephone call. He said he had no idea who the caller was or the reason for the threat but "somebody called me and told me I was next."

Babe Ruthers Defeat Little Leaguers In Special Tilt At Liberty Park Stadium

Little League Boys Kept Going But Could Not Rally In Ninth

The Babe Ruth League players, all graduates of Little League last season, took a 16-14 decision from the 12-year-old Little Leaguers, who will enter Babe Ruth play next season, Wednesday night at Little League stadium.

The Little League boys had three home runs in one inning giving them four of their runs and kept a steady pace with the older boys until the ninth inning.

The Babe Ruthers took two runs in the top of the first inning and held the Little League scoreless in the bottom. The tables turned in the second frame as the Babe

Ruth boys failed to tally and the Little League put two runs across the plate to tie up the game.

Both clubs tallied two each in the third frame to keep the score tied, but the Ruthers went ahead in the fourth on one run as the Little League failed to tally.

The Babe Ruth boys went down in the fifth frame with one man on to make room for the Little League, in order that they might score four runs on a walk and three homers, to take an 8-5 lead.

The Ruthers climbed back in the game in the top of the sixth as they collected four runs to regain the lead 9-8.

Not satisfied being behind very long the Little League boys blasted back with six runs to take the lead for the last time as they led the Ruthers 14-9.

Neither of the teams scored in the seventh of eighth, but the Babe Ruth boys blasted seven runs across the plate in the ninth to put the score at 16-14, where it ended after the Little Leaguers failed to mark in the bottom of the ninth.

Sports Roundup--Dodgers Move To New Jersey A Necessity

NEW YORK (AP)—The changing habits of the nation's wage earners made it inevitable that the Dodgers, though one of the great teams of baseball history, would sooner or later be forced to abandon their rattletrap plant in Brooklyn and seek the open spaces, as the Philadelphia Athletics and Boston Braves did before them.

The solid core of loyal fans which for generations elbowed its way into Ebbets Field and made the operation a profitable one no longer lives in the crowded borough across the East River. The sons of the old-time Dodger rooters now own their homes out on Long Island and prefer to motor to and from their entertainment.

Anyone who has ever attempted to drive through Brooklyn still bears scars of the experience. If he has attempted to find Ebbets Field, and, having finally triumphed on that score, then sought a parking space within commuting distance of the ancient arena, the chances are he's still bleeding.

What the old-time baseball fan happily endured for the sake of seeing his heroes in action—the endless trolley or subway ride, the eventual sitting behind a broad girder—the modern fan simply will not put up with in large numbers. He will, instead, drive to one of the nearby race tracks, where the parking facilities are vast and there are escalators to comfort his aching dogs.

That was what Dodger President Walter O'Malley was saying when he announced, in effect, that his club was throwing in the sponge. He knows he's fighting a losing battle. It is to be seriously doubted that he was entirely sincere when he said that his team will continue to play most of its home games at Ebbets Field through 1956 and 1957. The clean break with the past should come much sooner than that.

If the plan to play seven games in Jersey City next season is a desperate move aimed at rousing the Brooklyn civic fathers into building a new municipal plant for the Dodgers, it won't work. They don't rouse easily in this part of the country any more. Besides, the amount of land which would be required for such a project couldn't be found in Brooklyn short of razing eight apartment houses and a school.

Battle for Life Is Being Waged By Small School

CEDAR FALLS, Iowa (AP)—Small college football is fighting a "battle for life" in the opinion of C. L. (Buck) Starbeck, coach at Iowa State Teachers College.

"The larger colleges prefer to ignore the problems of the smaller schools," he declared in a letter to the editor of the Waterloo (Iowa) Courier.

"The major colleges are clamoring for unlimited television," he wrote. "They say that they are acting only to satisfy fans, not for money. Then it would not seem a handicap to televise the games on Monday when they would not openly compete with the smaller schools playing weekend football."

Starbeck criticized some large universities for "recruiting huge freshman squads to be boiled down to make up their varsity teams. Many a boy is thus denied the opportunity of enjoying competition even though he could have derived the benefits of playing, and he not been urged to attend the big school."

LOCAL DRIVER—Frank Ervin, a former resident of Sedalia, will be entered in many of the main features of the Grand Circuit Harness Racing events all through fair week. One of the top drivers in the Circuit, Ervin, has entered many of the top races in the east both in trotting and pacing.

Locally Known Racers Enter Jalopy Contest

Speed fans from all over Missouri will have an opportunity to see their favorite local drivers participate in the second annual Modified Stock Car Championship race on the rebuilt half-mile oval at the State Fair in Sedalia Saturday, August 20.

Over 72 cars and drivers, representing the cream of the point winners from every major racing association in the State of Missouri have entered the popular speed event which will be contested for a $2,500 purse, the largest ever put up for a modified race.

Kansas City will be represented by Bill Chennault and Scotty Seville, two of the best known race drivers in the Midwest.

Other outstanding contenders are Raymond Brady, St. Joseph; Tommy Mikels, Marshall; Torc Aleshire, Moberly; Doan Marr, Jefferson City; Al King, St. Louis;

The Tigers whacked Lemon for six hits and five runs in three innings. That's the longest any of Lopez's Big Three has lasted in the last three games.

Jim Bunning gave up solo homers to Larry Doby, Bobby Avila and Gene Woodling, before Babe Birrer came on to win in relief. Al Kaline, back up to .350 to top major league hitters, and Bill Tuttle had three hits each in the Tigers' 14-hit attack. Cleveland used four pitchers for the third straight game.

Hoot Evers, a regular breaks-and-sprains guy, suffered an eye injury when struck by his own foul in a pinch role for the Indians. The Yanks, who three times have won seven in a row this season, gave up their chance at eight straight as Boston scored five times in the sixth inning.

Grady Hatton and Jim Piersall laced Bob Turley for back-to-back triples to get the frame under way. Delock, a 25-year-old right-hander who had failed against New York in two previous tries, checked the Bombers on two hits until the seventh when Elston Howard's double and a pinch single by Joe Collins scored the Yanks' run. He gave five hits for the night.

A two-night doubleheader between Baltimore and the Nats at Washington was rained out. In the National League, Brooklyn lost its second straight to New York 5-1; Milwaukee homered past St. Louis 11-4; Chicago regained fifth place from Cincinnati 3-2, and Pittsburgh defeated Philadelphia 6-4.

Sam H. McMeeking, presiding steward at Churchill Downs, will retire at the end of this year after serving at the track for the past 36 years. McMeeking, 66, saw his first Kentucky Derby in 1908.

Redskins Post Win Over Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Little Eddie Lebaron, a midjet among pro football giants at only 168 pounds, proved last night that size isn't important as he pitched four touchdown passes to give the Washington Redskins a well deserved 31-28 victory over the Los Angeles Rams.

The game, played before 77,935 fans in Memorial Coliseum for Los Angeles Times Charities, Inc., was decided by the margin of a field goal in the second period—a 20-yard boot by Vic Janowicz, former Ohio State star.

But Lebaron's superlative ball handling, generalship, long and accurate kicking, and accurate passes, none of which was intercepted, were the real difference between the clubs in the exhibition game.

Six Hit Specialty
NEW YORK (AP)—The only player to make six hits in one American League game this season was Joe DeMaestri of the Kansas City Athletics. He got his six in an 11-inning game against the Tigers on July 8.

No players collected six hits during 1954. The last man to do the trick before DeMaestri was Jim Piersall of the Red Sox who smacked five singles and a double in six times at bat on June 10, 1953.

Mexico at the present occupies the bottom position in the Central Missouri Ban Johnson League as the Chiefs retain first place.

Cardinals Set For Last Game Against Spahn

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
And now they have to face Warren Spahn again.

Harry Walker's St. Louis Cardinals, drubbed by the Milwaukee Braves last night at St. Louis, 11-4, need a victory in the final game of the series tonight for an even split.

Spahn, who easily won the series opener Monday night, volunteered for the finale and it's no wonder, even with just two days rest. He's beaten the Cards 39 times against only 22 defeats in his lifetime and has three wins out of 11 total victories this season against only one loss.

The Cards hung in close until the eighth against Bob Uhl and the Braves but catcher Del Crandall unloaded a grand-slam home run off rookie Johnny Mackinson to put the game out of reach. Andy Paiko and Eddie Mathews each hit two-run homers off starter and loser Luis Arroyo earlier in the game. Milwaukee's final pair of runs came in the ninth off Brooks Lawrence when Hank Aaron belted two mates home with a double.

Buhl held the Cards to eight hits to chalk up his 11th win against 8 losses.

St. Louis runs came in the first on Solly Hemus' double, two walks and a sacrifice fly by second baseman Red Schoendienst who wore eye glasses for the first time. Wally Moon tripled and scored on Stan Musial's infield out in the third and two tallies in the fifth made it 5-4 before Crandall belted his 20th homer to break up five innings of good pitching work by Mackinson, making his National League debut.

The Kansas City Athletics had an open date.

Navy Places Next With East Rated Above Normal

Editor's Note: The opinions of the strength of the various football teams over the country are based on a story by Stanley Woodward, which was copyrighted by the Kansas City Star.

In 1954 the Army gridiron squad turned loose many attacks which were reminiscent of years when college football consisted of one word—ARMY. The vigor of Army's defense was not so great, however, and the West Pointers lost out in their first games.

Coach Earl Blaik has put All-American end, Dos Holleder, in as quarterback in pre-season strategy and is hoping this change will make the difference in his team.

If this strategy works Army is looked upon to be the number one team in the east with Navy running a close second.

Blaik will have plenty of time to try out his star at this position before meeting Navy as the soldiers meet Penn State, Michigan, Syracuse, Colgate and three Ivy League squads before meeting Navy, November 26. The annual Army-Navy classic will be held at Municipal stadium in Philadelphia.

Navy's second favored squad will carry a lighter schedule before the "big game" as they meet Pitt, Penn State, Notre Dame and Duke. In a general pre-season survey it would appear that the east has better squads than they have had for several seasons.

In the Ivy League it appears as though Cornell, Yale and Princeton might be ready for some rigorous battles.

Among the other colleges: Penn State starts the season without Lenny Moore, who has been declared ineligible, and it is doubtful that he can qualify in time to play.

Pitt has lost Henry Ford, star back, but still retains a solid squad with a new coach, Johnny Michel-sen.

Boston College has the best material they have been able to put on a field in many years and with the breaks could come up with a winning team.

Temple and Rutgers are both considerably stronger than last season and Colgate with hot quarterback, Guy Martin, stands a chance of pulling some upsets.

Holy Cross could easily be a great passing team this year if they can find the receivers, for they have three quarterbacks, all of whom are well above average in the tossing department.

Yale's powerful freshman squad of last season will be called upon to furnish some talent for this season's varsity team to plug up the holes left by graduating stars.

As a whole the eastern section of the country can look forward to a fine brand of pigskin sport as the level of their squads raises higher this season than in the recent years.

Carmel, winner of the Hollywood Park Nursery Stakes on June 14, is the first stakes winner sired by Citation. Newmarket Maid is the stallion's first winner. He scored June 6 at River Downs.

Iris Allen, 26, of Fall River, serving a term for robbery, scaled a 10-foot barbed wire fence and escaped during the riot. Three others who tried to escape were captured.

Television Just Won't Work for This Barber

TOKYO (AP)—A goodly crowd gathered last night at Jiro Masuyama's barber shop to check out his new television set. The Yomiuri baseball Giants were trouncing the Osaka Tigers.

Tiger fan Koichi Seiya, 23, suffered through four innings, then flipped the switch to another station.

Giant fan Sadao Yamada, 30, flipped a looping haymaker and knocked out Koichi.

Seven Giant fans and five Tiger fans leaped into a free-for-all. A police van screeched to a stop outside and officers hustled all 14 batters to the station. Charge: disturbing the peace.

And poor Masuyama? Sadly he watched the Giants win 10-0, then righted overturned barber chairs and benches. Today he sent back the TV set.

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Refueled in flight, 10 F84F jet fighters flew from an American base in England to Austin yesterday 10 hours 48 minutes, breaking two world's records.

The flight began with 12 aircraft but two landed at Barksdale Air Force Base, Shreveport, La., and trailed the other 10 home. No reason was announced for the landings.

'Gene Holman And Family To Colorado

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Helman and sons, Kent, 10 years old, and Stephen, six, Route 4, plan to leave Sedalia about Aug. 23, for Colorado Springs to reside. Mrs. Helman will teach the first grade in Stratton School and Mr. Helman plans later to go into business.

The decision of the Helmans to go to Colorado Springs was through Mrs. Helman's brother, Robert Davis, who is also a teacher and has lived there 16 years.

Until their new home is completed, which will be about the middle of September, the Helman family will live in a motel. The address of the new home is 2015 Crest Haven Circle. They have not sold their farm here. The man now on it will operate it as he is now doing on a partnership basis. Because of a back ailment Helman has been unable to continue farming.

Gene is a member of the Sedalia Men's Choral Club and served as president of the High Point School Board. He was also milk tester for two local dairies.

Mrs. Helman has been teaching at Horace Mann for the past three years. She previously taught at Mark Twain and Jefferson Schools, was Girl Scout executive for awhile, a member of the Helen G. Steele Music Club, and director of the junior choir of the First Methodist Church of which all of the family are members. Mr. and Mrs. Helman are also members of the Sedalia Country Club.

A number of parties have been given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Helman. About two weeks ago Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Maunders and Mr. and Mrs. George Lockett and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cunningham entertained with a dinner bridge at the Old Missouri Homestead. Last Monday night they were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Muller after which the Mullers had in members of the group from the Choral Club for an evening of bridge.

Dr. and Mrs. Bob Gouge entertained with a dinner at Flat Creek Inn last Wednesday and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Parker will have a dinner and bridge party Friday. Earlier a big party was given by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cunningham and next Tuesday the women who play golf together will have a party for Mrs. Helman.

Child Relates Story Of Playmates' Deaths

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Police learned yesterday how Lewis Andrews, 5, and his brother Lee, 2, came to die in an abandoned refrigerator in an empty apartment Tuesday.

Five-year-old Carl Jenkins told Detective Patrick Ryan that he and the brothers were playfully taking turns getting in the refrigerator. When the brothers got inside, Carl found he couldn't open the door, either because he wasn't strong enough or was too short.

Fearing punishment, he said tearfully, he fled.

The bodies of the boys were found by their mother six hours later.

Grand Canyon National Park encloses the home of the Havasupais, possibly the smallest and certainly the most isolated Indian reservation in the United States. A few square miles support the tribe of some 300 members.

Small Farm Girl Shot While Sitting in Home

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Nine-year-old Neva Lee Gaines was reported in critical condition today after being accidentally shot in the head with a .22 rifle while sitting in the living room of her rural home yesterday.

Mrs. Nora Gaines, Neva's mother, said the girl was in the center of the family's one-room home when she heard something whiz past her head.

"Right after that, Neva, who was seated on a couch screamed, 'help me, Mommy, help me!'" Authorities were questioning two 14-year old boys who were hunting birds in a field near the house at the time.

The boys had a .22 caliber rifle and a .16 gauge shotgun in their possession. R. H. Kelly, deputy sheriff, reported.

State Police, Guards Break Prison Riot

COMSTOCK, N.Y. (AP)—Guards and state police, using nightsticks and guns as clubs, battled prisoners for 26 minutes early today and broke up an uprising at Great Meadow Correctional Institute. Eighteen persons were injured.

One shot was fired accidentally when heavily armed guards and state troopers herded the 174 rebels back to their cells. The shot ricocheted and wounded two troopers and a guard. The other casualties were a trooper and 14 prisoners, who suffered cuts and bruises.

It was the first revolt in a New York state prison in a quarter century.

The rebels had defied an ultimatum from Thomas J. McHugh, state correction commissioner. McHugh raced here 100 miles from Canton and told the rebels to end the disturbance within five minutes. They did not comply.

The uprising began in a recreation area at about 5 p.m. when the supper whistle was blown five minutes early, cutting short a recreation period. Supt. Joseph Conboy said it was done because of a threat of rain.

The rebels huddled in a corner of the area and refused to go inside. They demanded to see McHugh, who was attending a conference on juvenile delinquency at St. Lawrence University.

He arrived a short time before midnight and delivered his ultimatum at 12:12 a.m. over the prison loud-speaker system. He counted the minutes aloud.

At 12:17, about 150 guards and 60 troopers moved in with nightsticks, rifles and submachineguns. The prisoners were armed with benches, nails and nail-studded slats from benches in the recreation yard.

The first 20 or 30 rebels entered the prison at 12:30. It was all over by 12:43.

Conboy told reporters the prisoners had a variety of complaints but there was no pattern. For example, he said, two complained that they were not getting medical treatment they wanted and a third wanted an improved recreation program next winter.

McHugh said he believed the trouble originated when the men heard radio news reports of a revolt at Nebraska Penitentiary Tuesday night.

"These things are contagious," he said.

The average American family uses 788 tin cans a year.

Proposal to Repudiate Totalitarian Leanings

GUATEMALA (AP)—A proposal to "repudiate" totalitarian political tendencies has been prepared by Guatemala for introduction today at the first meeting of the Organization of Central American States.

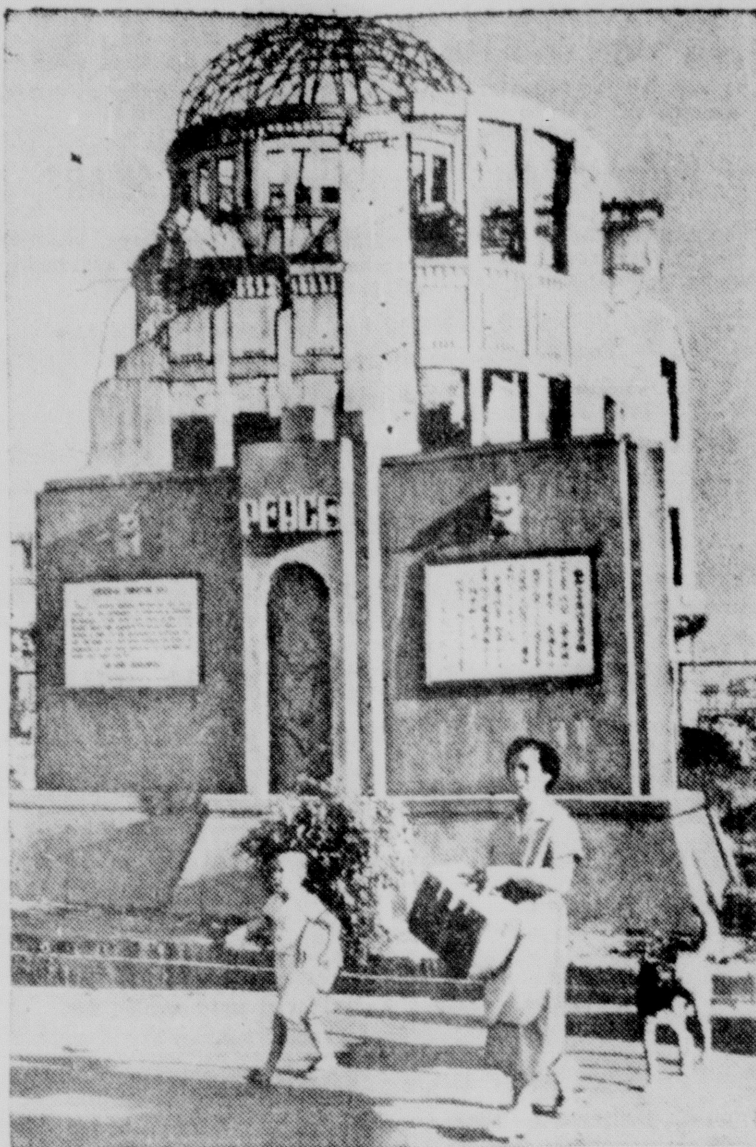

The meeting at Antigua, the colonial capital 28 miles from Guatemala city, brought together the foreign ministers of Honduras, El Salvador, Nicaragua, Costa Rica and Guatemala.

The proposal drafted by the anti-Communist government of President Carlos Castillo Armas called for "repudiation of every political tendency of totalitarian type which preaches or proposes to infringe on the democratic system, the dignity and the rights of man."

One long-range goal of the organization is the integration of the economies of the five countries. It also may help settle political differences.

Vacation on Riviera

NICE, France (AP)—Queen Soraya of Iran arrived here today for an informal vacation on the French Riviera. A member of the Queen's party denied earlier reports from Tehran that she was visiting Europe for medical treatment. "She is very well and in perfect health," he said.

PEACE—AND WAR—As the world enters the 11th year of the atomic age, a monument to peace stands in the shadow of shattered Industrial Promotion Hall, Hiroshima, Japan. Situated at ground zero, focal point of the blast which leveled the city August 6, 1945, the rubble has been left as a reminder of the cataclysmic power of the atom. Among the inscriptions on the memorial is one that expresses the wish of all mankind—"No More Hiroshimas."

French Cabinet Considers Fate Of Morocco

PARIS (AP)—The French Cabinet met today to consider the future of the Moroccan throne as violence and threats of worse trouble mounted in the North African protectorate.

Official French reports said at least four Moroccans were killed last night in Casablanca and seven persons were wounded, including a French physician whose car was stoned.

French troop reinforcements were arriving in Morocco in preparation for a crisis expected Saturday, anniversary of the exile by the French of pronationalist Sultan Mohammed Ben Youssef. Terrorist groups have called for a general strike.

Almost 40,000 foreign students, scholars and doctors spent the 1954-1955 academic year in the United States, says the Institute of International Education.

NO TIME ON HIS HANDS — Busy David Card earns high school expenses with rubbish-collecting route, plays in two orchestras, sings in choir and glee club.

Youth, 16, Has Businesses Which Are Very Profitable

HARRISON, Maine — A successful 16-year-old business man now earning most of his own way through high school is thinking of diverting his interest from trade to the arts.

David Card, trash collector for 40 families, thinks he'll seriously take up the theater, music or—the culinary arts. He hasn't decided which.

At present he is more concerned with carting away trash. He uses a truck which he bought himself and which is a few months older than he is.

Dave began his business with 15 customers shortly after he got a driver's license at age 15. He now has 25 regular customers all year round and another 15 during the summer vacation season.

In his spare time, Dave plays a baritone horn in the high school band and orchestra and in the Bridgton Town Band. He also sings with a choir group and the school glee club.

He also plays the trombone, trumpet, saxophone, clarinet, accordion and piano.

Summers, Dave takes part in the Deertrees Summer Theater productions and in the winter he handles roles in school plays when not serving as football manager or school mailman.

For relaxation, Dave ducks into the kitchen where he's been learning cooking, his grandmother says, "ever since he was barely old enough to hold a spoon."

He can handle all types of cooking, according to his mother, but in this age of specialization, tends more toward pastry.

Dave's biggest job in life, as he sees it now, is simply deciding which of his interests to follow permanently.

Sandwiches Are Tops in August.

Open-faced, or closed, three stories high, or two feet long, it's a sandwich! Authorities tell us, we in the United States eat more than 90,000,000 sandwiches everyday, this makes them very important. They tell us more are consumed in August than in any other month during the year. This seems right since August is famous for picnics, backyard suppers, and end of the summer entertaining — and sandwiches are naturals on these menus.

Make your sandwiches from enriched or whole wheat grain bread. Enriched bread has added amounts of B vitamins and iron and is one of our least expensive sources of food energy. Choose different breads for sandwiches from a dozen varieties available at local food stores. Cracked wheat, whole wheat, potato, French, rye, nut and fruit breads all keep sandwiches interesting. Rolls and buns offer a welcomed change, too.

There are countless kinds of fillings, good tasting and nutritious. Meats, fish, eggs, cheese, vegetables and fruits used separately or in a variety of combinations make tempting satisfying sandwiches.

For a sandwich to take out on a picnic, split a loaf of French bread lengthwise. Spread lower half with butter or margarine. Then stack: crisp lettuce, sliced tomatoes, sliced cheese, sliced sweet onion, sliced luncheon meat. Be generous so that every bite will include some of each. Spread cut side of remaining half of bread with butter, mustard, then chili sauce, and cover stacked filling. Wrap securely in foil and chill in refrigerator before carrying to picnic spot. To serve, slice off generous 4 to 6 inch hunks for a meal-in-one sandwich.

Try Freezing Sandwiches

It's an easy matter to keep a week's supply of frozen, hearty sandwiches on hand, the kind you'll serve at outdoor picnics or suppers. They're excellent for lunchboxes, too. On freezing sandwiches, remember:

The best fillings are peanut butter, butter, cheddar, American or cream cheese, sliced or ground meat, fish or chicken.

Jelly, mayonnaise and salad dressing spreads will soak into bread.

Hard-cooked egg white develops off flavor and changes texture.

Lettuce, celery and carrots lose their crispness. They should be added at mealtime.

Wrap sandwiches separately in moisture, vapor-proof material. Label and pack in cartons to prevent crushing.

Insulating Your Home

It is time to insulate and weatherproof buildings. Whether your home is new or old, you'll find insulating has two advantages. It adds comfort in both winter and summer and saves you money on fuel bill.

Weatherproofing—which includes storm sash and doors, weatherstripping, and caulking is also very important. It, like insulation, contributes to winter comfort and increases fuel savings.

Even when a house is well constructed and in good condition, insulation and weather-proofing cuts heat loss. And the heat is spread more uniformly through the whole house. Walls and floor of a room will be just about as warm as the air in the center of the room and there will be less difference between the temperature of air near the floor and that at the ceiling. There will be fewer cold drafts.

Insulation and storm sash keep dew from forming on windows and walls. When warm air touches a cold surface, moisture condenses and forms dew. For example, the outside of a pitcher of ice water is soon covered with dew when set in a warm room. Just so—moisture may also condense on cold ceilings, walls and windows.

The first step in insulating a house is to get the house in good condition. Perhaps 25 per cent or more of the heat moves out through and around doors and windows. For this reason you may need storm doors and windows.

In the ordinary one-story house and in many 2-story houses, 25 per cent or more of the total heat loss is through the top of the house. So if you can insulate only a part of the house, start with the ceiling or roof.

Perhaps you're wondering about the kind of insulation to use. Any material that slows down the movement of heat is an insulator. As a general rule, dense, heavy materials, are poor insulators. Some of the best are mineral wools, including glass wools, mica products, cork and some plant materials. Most of these are light in weight and are filled with tiny air spaces.

THE SEDALIA DEMOCRAT

Second Section Sedalia, Missouri Thursday, August 18 1955

Insulating materials are on the market in four common forms: loose fill, blanket, bat and board. The kind best suited to your use will depend on: (1) whether you intend to use it purely as insulation or as a wall finish (2) how easy it is to install (3) how much you want to spend.

There is no set rule on how much insulation to use for best results. The amount depends partly on climate and location, how well the house is built, and what building material used and, also, with the difficulty of installing.

Good insulation put in properly will last the life of the house and weatherproofing well installed will give long wear. So when you figure the cost of adding these improvements to your house, you can think of it as a long-time investment. And you can balance it against the savings in fuel for many years to come.

Make Your Own Chef's Salad

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Chef's salad! From what we see being ordered in restaurants, we'd say this salad is a favorite main course for lunch. Why, then, don't more cooks serve it at home?

There isn't anything the least bit hard about putting a good Chef's Salad together. You do, however, have to have a fairly large number of ingredients at hand: cooked ham, Swiss cheese, cooked chicken, a variety of greens, hard-cooked eggs. So plan to make this salad when you have leftovers of chicken and ham. Or follow a plan we use: buy boiled ham from your food market and steam a chicken breast quickly in a skillet.

Our Chef's Salad uses both mayonnaise and French dressing. The latter is made with a prepared mix of herbs and spices; you add your own wine vinegar, olive oil and water to it.

CHEF'S SALAD

Ingredients: 1 package old-fashioned French salad dressing mix, wine vinegar, water, olive oil, 1/2 cup thin short strips cooked ham, 1/2 cup thin short strips Swiss cheese, 1/2 cup thin short strips white meat of chicken, 1 medium-sized head romaine (cut in 1-inch pieces), 1/4 of a medium-sized head lettuce (cut in 1-inch pieces), 1/4 bunch water cress (heavy stems cut off and separated into small sprigs), 1/2 bunch chicory (cut in 1-inch pieces), 2 cups shredded cabbage, 1/4 cup mayonnaise, 2 hard-cooked eggs, (sliced), 2 table-spoons minced chives.

Method: Combine salad dressing mix, wine vinegar, water and olive oil as directed on package. Chill ham, cheese and chicken. Place greens in large salad bowl; add 1 cup of the French dressing and the mayonnaise; toss together lightly. Arrange meats and cheese on top in alternate sections radiating from center. Garnish with egg slices and chives. Makes about 2 1/2 quarts, or 4 to 6 servings.

OTHER SALADS

Don't serve the same old salad all the time! Here are some combinations that eaters usually like:

1. Strips of cooked smoked tongue and cheddar cheese with shredded green cabbage and diced pimiento. Toss with French dressing.

2. Water cress sprigs, thin slices of cucumber and crumbled crisply cooked bacon. Toss with French dressing.

3. Diced cooked potatoes and diced cooked chicken with cooked green peas or snap beans. Marinate with French dressing, then add mayonnaise and serve on salad greens.

4. Young tender leaves of fresh green spinach with crumbled crisply cooked bacon and French dressing.

Should Have Stood in Jail

DETROIT (AP)—Thomas J. Tiggett did everything wrong.

Police said he bungled a lumber yard burglary so badly they were able to nab him.

Taken to a police station, Tiggett sat down right under a "wanted" circular. It stated Thomas J. Tiggett was wanted as an escapee from Southern Michigan Prison. He was ordered returned there.

CHEF'S SALAD, a favorite in restaurants, is easy to prepare at home.

ing. Top with crisp croutons.

5. Salad greens tossed with bits of anchovy fillets, slices of pimiento-sliced olives, French dressing and grated Parmesan cheese.

6. Thin celery crescents with seafood-cooked shrimp, crab meat or lobster — and butter-toasted walnuts. The celery, seafood and walnuts may be mixed with well-seasoned mayonnaise and served on any leafy green.

Plan Your Vacations Around Needs and Wants of the Kids

AP Newsfeatures

What are you going to do with those remaining precious weeks of vacation?

If the children are quite small, you'd better plan your holiday around the youngsters. You'll have a much better time yourself if the children are happy, rested and well occupied with activities suitable to their ages.

Little people do best if naps, meals and bedtime come around pretty much on schedule. During play times, they want to dig in the sand, swing, slide, build blocks. They do not want to go sight-seeing, visit friends (of yours), eat new and strange foods and spend long hours in a car.

When your children are little, go to some nice place and stay put for your vacation. Pick a place where the children will have the things to do that will keep them happy, but also try to see to it that the mechanics of living are not too hard on mother.

Chances are mother needs a vacation even more than the children. If mother has to do all the cooking on a sad tired oil stove, heat all the water to wash the children's clothes, she's not going to have much of a holiday.

If you can afford it, an ideal vacation for a family with young children can be spent in a small cottage near a central lodge where you can have all your meals. If the place is at a beach on a lake in the mountains, you'll have the joys of the countryside, the privacy and peace of your own quarters and relief from household chores. Many such places even have trained people to help with the children so that Mother and Dad can get away some of the time for a fishing trip or a hike too long for the children.

Such a vacation is wonderful if you can manage it. It is, however, rather on the expensive side. If it seems a bit too steep for your budget there are other ways of planning. You might invite some congenial young girl to go with you. In return for a couple of weeks in the country, she would be willing to help with household chores and baby-sit for you.

Sometimes a good vacation can be spent back home with mother. If either of your parents have a big enough house, they'd probably love a visit from you and their grandchildren.

Grandparents usually enjoy taking over the youngsters and giving Mother and Dad a little time to have fun together and alone.

Maybe you can even leave the children with their grandparents for a couple of weeks while you two go off by yourselves. If you can't make any good arrangements that come within your budget, maybe you'd better stay home this year, save your money, and wait until the youngsters are a bit older.

Whatever you do, don't plan a long, vagabonding automobile trip with young children and expect to enjoy it.

Outstate Violations To Be On Licenses

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Atty. Gen. John M. Dalton held today that the state director of revenue can add notations on a renewed driver's license if the driver violated traffic laws of other states. M. E. Morris, revenue director, asked the opinion because, he said, some renewal applicants were complaining that violations outside the state were not of Missouri's business. Dalton ruled that Missouri law requires the director to note any traffic violations or accidents, wherever they occur, if the old license carries them or if the Department of Revenue has received notice of them.

Then they can be used in actions to revoke or suspend licenses of Missouri drivers who have the "accident habit."

Bridge Dedication To Be Chigger-Proof

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—The State Highway Department solemnly assured the people today they need have no fear of chiggers when a new bridge across the Missouri River is dedicated here Saturday night.

The department said the grassy right of way at the dedication site will be de-chiggered for the occasion.

Missourian Wins Regional FFA Meet

Litton, president of the Missouri F.F.A. organization, will go to the national finals held in connection with the annual convention in Kansas City next October.

The title of Litton's winning speech was "Farming — A Challenge and Opportunity."

The area of the Sahara Desert of North Africa is estimated at 3½ million square miles — or about the area of Europe minus Scandinavia.

Escape Hatch

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Somebody fashioned a 15-inch hole in a mesh grating atop the elevator shaft at the city jail. Police, reasonably sure nobody had broken into jail, believe some trusty used the escape hatch to come and go as he pleased. The mesh screen had been worn shiny by someone crawling through it many times.

Walcott is a special juvenile investigating officer attached to the Camden Police Department. Police said he and Patrolman Bernal Ford were standing a few feet away when the teen-age boys fled from the store.

The men gave chase and Walcott forced the youths against a wall. The boys were identified as Albert MacNeill, 15, and William Brothers, 16. They were charged with breaking and entering and larceny.

New Yorker Cited For Language Work

TOKYO (AP)—The American Embassy today cited Mrs. Eleanor H. Jordan, of New York and Vineyard Haven, Mass., for "intellectual eminence and unflinching industry" in founding and directing the embassy's Japanese language school.

Mrs. Jordan, wife of New York Times correspondent William J. Jordan, established the school in 1950 for embassy and consulate personnel in Japan. During the five years she has headed the school more than 700 have attended its language classes.

Pick Flowers, Leaves Faded In Summer

Written for NEA Service

Gardens are apt to be at their worst in July and August. Picking all faded flowers and yellowing foliage each day will make all the difference in the world in appearance.

As a rule, saving seed from your own plants is not worth while. Specialists can do a better job. But in case you want to try it, a wise precaution is to tie a colored thread around the stem just below any pod you want to save. This serves as a warning in your daily going over of the garden.

If you decide to save some seed of your own, watch for outstanding plants.

Aquilegia or columbine is a good subject with which to start. Select vigorous plants with clear-colored flowers of desirable shades and save one pod from each plant.

The seedlings will give you a wide range of color and you should save only the best. In this way, year by year, you can build up a choice collection of aquilegia. Of course, the original seed, which you buy, should be especially fine.

Sow the seed thinly as soon as it is ripe in a shaded cold-frame. Lacking a frame, a seed bed may be prepared in a shady spot in the garden. The little seedlings will appear quite quickly and may be moved to nursery bed in September.

Among delphinium fans, there is some argument as to whether to cut the old flower stalks to the ground immediately after flowering or to leave them. Of course, we all hope to get a second crop of bloom, but it takes a vigorous plant to produce two crops of bloom and retain strength to survive the winter.

We all know that it is through the agency of the chlorophyll in the leaves that a plant manufactures its food. Therefore, the delphinium needs all the foliage possible to feed its roots.

It may be that a great deal of winter killing is due to the practice of severely cutting back the foliage.

So, leave much of the old growth and let the young stalks grow up through. This serves a double purpose, as the old stalks have now become quite hard and woody and help to prevent wind damage to tender young stalks as they grow.

A good feeding cultivated into the soil around each plant will go along way to encourage vigorous growth.

Delphiniums are heavy feeders and to enjoy two crops of bloom you must set a good table for them. With few exceptions, July is the wind-up for seed-sowing in the vegetable garden.

If there is space in the cold frame, sow lettuce and endive there in August and you will be able to supply your table until late in the fall. The glass will give protection until the first severe frost.

Amateur Photographers Seem Ever Present Around World

By ED CREAGH

WASHINGTON (AP)—This is the season of the amateur photographer. Innocent bystanders should take to the hills.

The shutterbug we have with us always. He goes forth laden with expensive cameras. He comes home with the rent money spent on film, filters, exposure meters, tripods. In between, he takes some pictures. You want to see them? Don't worry. You will.

He is with us the year 'round, is the shutterbug. But come this time of year, the peak of the vacation season, he is everywhere. He teeters on the brink of the Grand Canyon. He leans over Niagara Falls. There is no escaping him.

Amateur photographers outnumber the pigeons in Venice's St. Mark's Square. Shutterbugs shoulder-to-shoulder block your view at the Folies Bergere.

For this is by no means an American peculiarity, this picture-snapping. It used to be said every German child is born with a camera in his hand. Today it appears every Japanese child is born with an f1.4 lens in the middle of his forehead.

Why this worldwide preoccupation with taking of pictures of things?

One theory is that people expect the world may be blown up any minute now and so they want to keep a record of it. The flaw here is that the pictures would be blown up, too, along with the cameras and the amateur photographers.

A more immediate danger than the hydrogen bomb is the shutterbug himself.

He wheels down the highway, photographic gear beside him, wife and kids in the back seat. A plaintive cry arises: "Daddy! pull-lease. I mean it this time. I got to stop at a rest-room."

His brakes squeal and his wife squeals, simultaneously. Behind him, other drivers brake and comment on his forebears. The shutterbug does not hear. Out the door, across the highway, fingers fumbling at the camera controls.

"What a vacation!" his shaken wife moans.

"What a vacation!" the exuberant shutterbug cries, when and if he gets back safely across that busy highway. 'Got Old Faithful geyser reflected in the eye of a bear! Greatest scenic shot I ever made! Greatest anybody ever made!"

Well, it turns out, of course, after the film is developed, that the bear's eye was closed. No reflection of Old Faithful. The shutterbug is not discouraged, however. "Greatest close-up of a bear's eye ever made," he exults. "I planned it that way."

And you're going to see that foggy, out-of-focus, underexposed picture of a bear's eye, friend. J. Edgar Hoover has no agent more cunning than the shutterbug who wants to exhibit a picture.

I know because I am an amateur photographer. And, since we're talking, I happen to have a picture here. It was supposed to be the Empire State building, but some butter off the popcorn got smeared on the lens, and —

If you like, you may also add some very thinly sliced rounds of lemon. Cover and bake in a moderate oven for about an hour or until the chops are tender. If the sauce has too much fat, remove some of it; if it is thinner than you like, cook it down in a small saucepan on top of the range.

When your oven is on, you might like to try a shoulder lamb chop dish that is baked. First brown

A New Hotel For Sedalia?..

For considerable time there has been discussion of needed improvements in Sedalia to keep pace with the growth trend in business and population—public improvements such as streets, schools, expanded hospital, new city hall, additional fire departments, museum, municipal auditorium—all of which could be obtained with tax money.

But there are some improvements that would add to the stature of the community that can only be obtained with private capital. One of these is a new hotel with adequate facilities for large community gatherings and particularly conventions.

Sedalia's hotel and motel facilities are adequate under normal conditions and perform stellar service in this capacity. But with Missouri's State Fair week the pressure is on, and the overflow to residential rooming houses does not entirely relieve the strain. Many who are connected with the fair operations and its numerous enterprises actually put up with the inconvenience of driving back and forth to hotels in Jefferson City, a daily round trip of 120 miles, and to Warrensburg, 60 miles round trip.

It might be difficult to interest private capital in going into the hotel business for ten days' rush business during Fair Week, but some venturesome individuals may be far-sighted enough to give thought to the possibilities of Sedalia's growth and its promotion as a convention city.

One reads frequently about Texas and Oklahoma money drifting north to stimulate old and new enterprises. Perhaps some southern tycoons might survey Sedalia as a possibility.

A beautiful new structure on Highway 50 not too far from the business area would certainly be an asset. Call it dreaming or wishful thinking, but as Epictetus puts it—in paraphrase, of course:

"In all men, thought and action start from a single source, namely dreaming."

Drew Pearson Says--

Back-stage Lobbyist Arm of Government

WASHINGTON — Here is another illustration of how the fourth branch of government, the lobbyists, operates backside in Washington.

Just before Congress adjourned, it rushed through a bill permitting the District of Columbia government to seize the Capital Transit Co., long on strike, and operate its buses and street cars for the benefit of the public.

This strike has had one of the most crippling effects on the nation's capital in years. Yet financier Louis Wolfson, the Florida shipyard operator who owns Capital Transit and has been trying to acquire Montgomery Ward, literally thumbed his nose at the people of Washington. Finally a bill was introduced to take over the company, and the commissioners of the district, who are Republican, demanded that Congress stay in session until the bill was passed.

Speaker Sam Rayburn, though anxious to adjourn, reluctantly did stay in session and did pass the transit-seizure bill.

But despite the demand of his own Republican commissioners, Ike mysteriously delayed signing it.

Mysterious Pressures

What was the reason for this strange delay? Why the demand on the part of Ike's Republican appointees for action, and then the mysterious delay by Ike himself.

The answer is: backstage pressure by the lobbyists.

And here is how the lobbyists worked.

First, Capital Transit boss Wolfson has been a heavy contributor to both Republicans and Democrats. He and his colleagues placed money on the election campaigns of certain senators just as a gambler places money on different numbers around a roulette wheel figuring that one or the other would pay off. This is a common practice by the officials of big corporations. Having contributed to a senator, they then feel no compunction about asking favors from that senator.

In the Florida campaign to elect Governor Fuller Warren, for instance, Wolfson was recorded as contributing the amazing amount of $200,000.

Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) ran up against Wolfson's campaign contributions when trying to subpoena him to testify regarding the Capital Transit strike. Wolfson at first appeared to be ducking the Senate District of Columbia committee.

McNamara Explodes
And when Morse pressed the search, Senator Symington (D-Mo.) came to him, advised that Wolfson had been a generous contributor to the Democrats.

"By mentioning that," said Morse, "you have guaranteed that we'll subpoena him."

When Morse mentioned this and other pressure to his fellow DC Committee member, Sen. Pat McNamara of Michigan, Pat's Irish temper exploded. Immediately they issued a "forth-with" subpoena, the toughest subpoena the Senate can issue.

Eventually Wolfson turned up and testified.

Meanwhile his lobbying forces started working on the White House to veto the Transit-seizure bill. The pressure, Morse found, was being applied by David Charnay, shrewd, brilliant, one of the most successful public relations men in the nation's capital, an intimate friend of Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire.

It had taken a lot of pressure on Speaker Sam Rayburn and other congressional leaders to get the transit-seizure bill passed, yet now it was stymied in the White House. So Senator Morse phoned Commissioner Sam Spencer, Ike's appointee as "mayor of Washington."

"I have reason to believe," warned Morse, "that pressure is being applied to the White House not to sign your bill."

"Oh no, nothing like that could happen," replied Commissioner Spencer.

Next day he agreed that Morse seemed to be right. Assistant President Sherman Adams had advised delay, told him it might be possible to settle the strike without seizure.

"I can't understand it," Commissioner Spencer told the senator from Oregon. "You're right that the White House staff is urging that the bill be vetoed. You certainly must have some inside information."

The inside information Morse had learned was that Senator Bridges of New Hampshire, friend of Charnay's, was urging Assistant President Sherman Adams of New Hampshire to kill the capital transit bill.

"I suggest that the President be reminded that this is a Republican bill," Morse told Spencer, "and that you commissioners wrote it."

Meanwhile, members of the Washington board of trade got into the pressure picture on the side of Capital Transit, argued at the White House that seizing a company during a labor argument created a bad precedent.

Faced with these pressure forces, the President waited 12 days from the day Congress had rushed through the bill "on request." Then he signed it — 36 hours before it would have been killed by a pocket veto.

Lady Ex-Judge

Judge Grace Stewart, appointed by Truman to the DC Municipal Court but not reappointed by Eisenhower, entered the dining car on a train to New York. Only seat available was at a table partially occupied by Fred Mullen, press relations officer of the Justice Department, and Attorney General Brownell.

Both gentlemen rose, offered Mrs. Stewart a place near the window. Mullen introduced her to Brownell. After some pleasant conversation, Brownell asked:

"Are you enjoying your work on the bench, Judge Stewart?"

"I was," replied the ex-judge, "until you threw me out."

Preparing For U. S.

Refugees, numbers of whom arrive periodically in this country under the immigration quota law, are now given a brief orientation course enroute. At present the course takes place aboard the Army Transport General Langfitt and is organized by the Intergovernmental Committee for European Migration.

The course consists of an attempt in ten days to explain America, from its language to square dancing to the present tune of Davey Crockett craze.

The short voyage across the Atlantic is not a very long time to become familiar with American ways and language, but it is an improvement on what "used to be." In other days the refugees were practically dumped on our shores with little knowledge of what they could expect.

Now the Council on Student Travel, under Educational Director Erich Hoffman, a former migrant and graduate of the University of Wisconsin, conducts this orientation course for refugees who have been chosen to come to America.

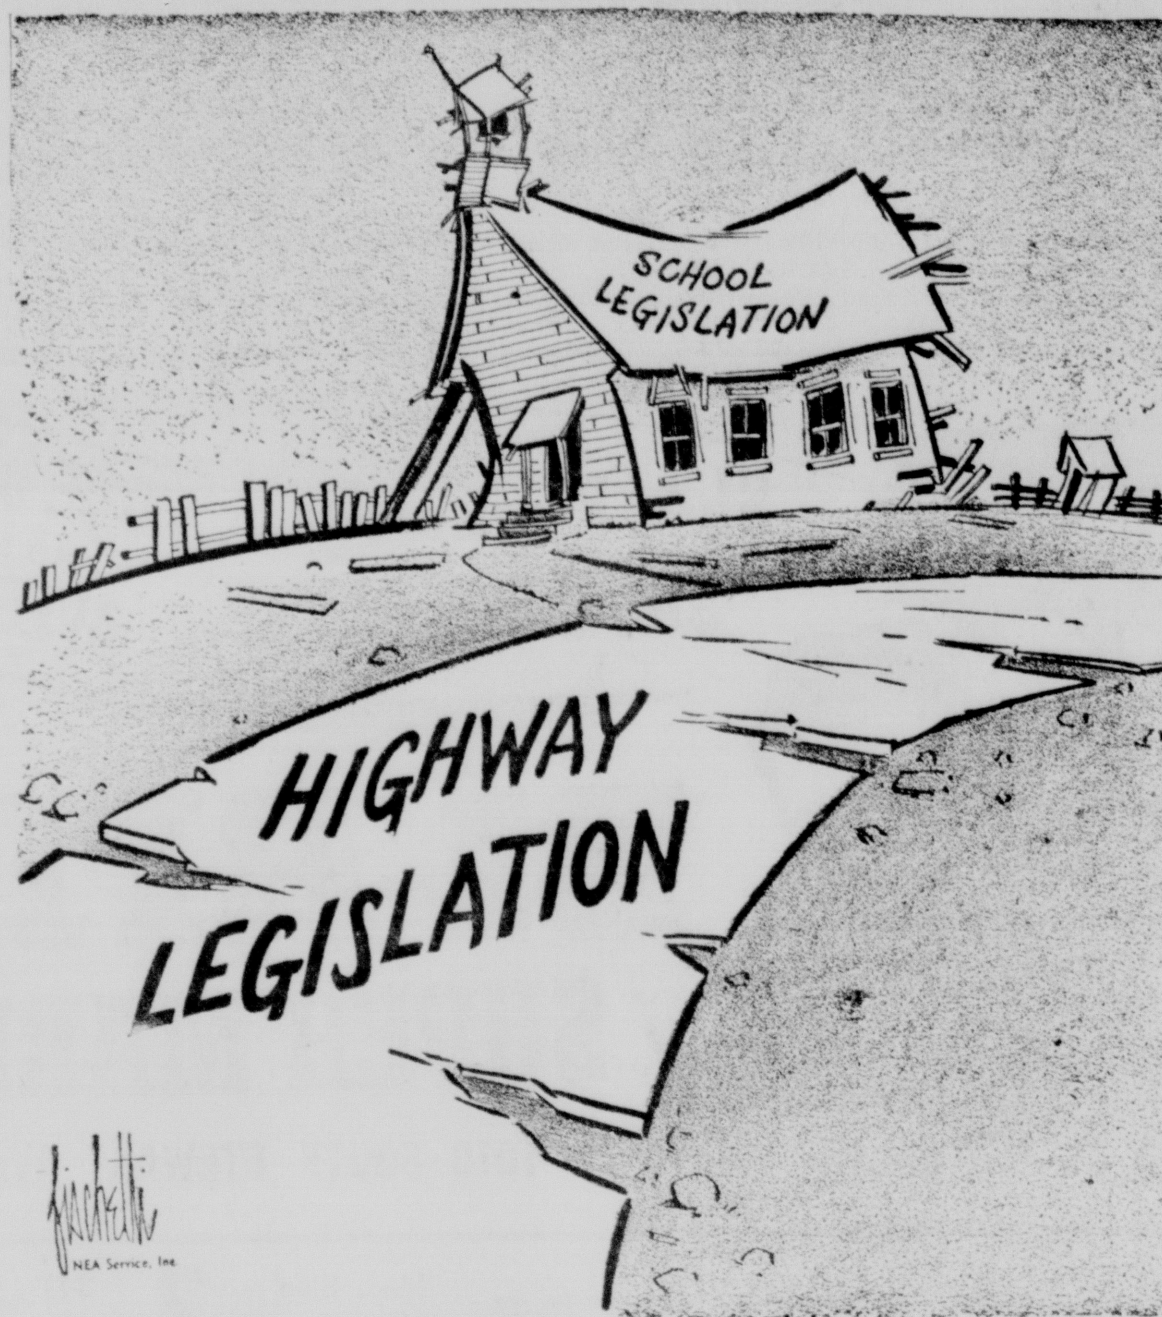

Aboard the General Langfitt a shipload of 1,243 newcomers to this country participate in language studies, supplemented by films of American industries, schools, farms, housing and even super-markets. Much is crowded into a ten day trip. The new residents will be better prepared to face the big and little problems which await them.

Thought for Today

And them that are turned back from the Lord; and those that have not sought the Lord, nor enquired for him.—Zephaniah 1:6.

Man is arrogant in proportion to his ignorance. Man's natural tendency is to egotism. Man, in his infancy of knowledge, thinks that all creation was formed for him.—Bulwer-Lytton.

The World Today--

Armed Forces Hold Club Over POWs

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Under the new code of military conduct the armed forces keep a stiff grip on a club to hold over the head of any captured American who collaborates with the enemy or hurts his fellow prisoners.

This new code, proclaimed yesterday by President Eisenhower, was put together by a committee of government officials and top retired officers.

After the spectacle of some American prisoners of war in Korea collaborating with the enemy or mistreating their fellow prisoners, Secretary of Defense Wilson created the committee to produce a guide for future POW conduct.

The code, issued yesterday, recognizes that prisoners have a breaking point under mistreatment or torture, as explained in point No. 5, the most important of the six-point code:

"When questioned, should I become prisoner of war, I am bound to give only name, rank, service number and date of birth. I will evade answering further questions to the utmost of my ability."

But this cannot be interpreted as a go-ahead for a prisoner to help the enemy in any way for the explanation attached to point No. 5 says such help is forbidden.

This is the language: "Oral or written confessions true or false, questionnaires, personal history statements, propaganda recordings or broadcasts, appeals to other prisoners of war, signatures to peace or surrender appeals, self-criticisms or any other oral or written communications on behalf of the enemy or harmful to the United States . . . or other prisoners are forbidden."

This seems to be a clear warning to any serviceman taken prisoner that, while it is understood he may crack, he will still be held responsible for whatever he does and the armed services will decide what to do about it.

The committee made it clear it attempted to hit a middle road between the extreme points of view: (1) don't tell the enemy anything, and (2) tell him anything in order to avoid punishment.

But the language of the explanation to point No. 5 seems plainly to say that the armed forces will suit themselves on how they deal with a returned American prisoner of war who collaborated with the enemy in any way.

The report seems to hint—but this has to be considered carefully—a man will not be court-martialed for disobeying point No. 5 if he was badly mistreated.

Reviewing the number of men court-martialed for dealing with the Red Chinese while in their hands, the report says: "No case was brought for court-martial in which there was evidence of duress, brainwashing or any other type of coercion."

The phrase "in which there was evidence" is the key one there. The armed forces will decide on what "was evidence" of brainwashing or duress.

Your Child's Health-- Girls Should Be Foretold Of Adolescent Changes

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

The beginning of adolescence in girls is usually dated from the first appearance of a new physiological function. This event frequently starts about the age of 13, but the physical changes of adolescence in girls do not always come at the same age.

There is usually no cause for alarm if there is delay until 14 or 15 or if changes start before 13. The onset of adolescence varies with different families, with racial background, climate and perhaps diet and other factors. It should be viewed as a gradual process rather than a sudden shift out of childhood.

Girls should be told beforehand what to expect and that what happens is a perfectly normal step toward maturity. The mother or a physician should discuss the beginning of adolescence fully and frankly before the definite signs of it appear.

If this is not done, menstruation may start unexpectedly and create an unfortunate emotional disturbance. Also, false or incomplete information may be given by friends.

Information concerning adolescent changes should be supplied in a completely matter-of-fact way. A girl should be told that she is only one of millions of her own age who are going through the same experience at the same time.

It should be explained also that the changes about to develop are the result of increased activity on the part of those hormones or internal glands which have to do with femininity. As a rule this information comes best from a thoughtful mother.

A good deal of unnecessary worry is also produced by the mothers themselves. One writes that her 12½-year-old daughter had a menstrual period about a month after her eleventh birthday, but has had none since. She wonders whether anything should be done.

This is by no means unusual. Nothing at all should be done at the age of 12½.

Not only should the mother not worry about it, but she should not let her daughter know she is concerned.

During adolescence many girls cry easily, take unreasonable dislikes to people, food or activities, or fly off the handle at members of their family for no apparent reason.

The girls themselves often realize this but keep on just the same. The wise parent should not give in to these outbursts too much since it is not fair to others for the girl to behave unreasonably.

Also, parents should recognize that they are not alone with such problems. They should not worry about the seeming personality change which often develops.

When peculiar behavior on the part of an adolescent girl does break out, the parents are well advised to take it calmly and yet continue to be firm about those things which are important to the well-being of the family.

Democrats Brewing Hot Political Campaign Juices

By Esther Van Wagoner Tuffy
Democrat-Capital
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Three political-packed investigations are coming up.

After a short vacation back home for some personal politicking, three Democrats will strike hard at the administration's power policy, its preference for big business, and its news secrecy policies.

The objective: embarrassment for the Republicans and the possible emergence of a hot issue for the forthcoming Presidential campaign.

1. Power policy. In the Senate, Senator Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) started the investigation by relentless probing into the Dixon-Yates private-power contract and his investigation will pick up again in October. It may help his Presidential potential.

Looking Backward...

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

The fifth annual Missouri state encampment of the Modern Woodmen of America opened Sunday at the Missouri State Fair grounds with a flag-raising ceremony in front of the camp headquarters. Sixty camps from over the state were represented. Talks were made by several officials. Five bands participated in the early events.

1930

L. W. Hoover, manager of the Flower Dry Goods Co., returned from New York after a three-week buying trip.

1930

K. L. Zander, manager of the district office in Sedalia of the National Life and Accident Co., was transferred to Marshall.

1930

Six thousand persons attended the first mass ever held at the Missouri State Fair grounds on Sunday at 11 a.m. Music was by a Kansas City cathedral choir and a sermon was given by Msgr. J. B. McCaffery, Kansas City. It was in the coliseum.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Hundreds of Sedalians waded through mud and water Tuesday night, April 17, to attend the Sells-Floto Circus at Liberty Park and see "Buffalo Bill." Col. William F. Cody, many women and children wearing oxfords had them pulled off in the sticky mud.

1915

Peter Pehl and son, Otto, left for Sullivan, Mo., to visit copper mines in that vicinity in which Mr. Pehl was interested.

1915

Prof. C. A. Deppe, former member of the Sedalia High School faculty, was here from Franklin, Ind., where he was a professor in Franklin College. He was visiting Attorney Dimmitt Hoffman.

1915

W. H. Boulitt, former chief of police, Sedalia, was injured in Kansas City when a southbound Prospect car struck a "split-switch." Two others were hurt in the accident.

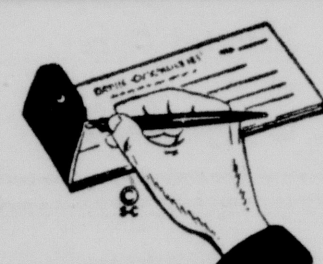

1915

Bell Hutchinson was granted a permit by Frank T. Leaming, city engineer, to erect a ten-room residence at Third and Park at a cost of $12,000. Oscar Thomas was given the contract for its erection.

Suddenly his six-year-old daughter, who was listening, too, and had heard the name called, tugged at his coat sleeve. He bent his head down to her and the youngster whispered: "Daddy, is that you?" — H.L.

Coffee Cooler for a Hot Day

By Cecily Brownstone
Associated Press Food Editor

The coffee houses that have sprung up all over New York — near Fifth Avenue in the 40's and 50's, as far east as Second Avenue and as far downtown as Greenwich Village — have all sorts of ideas for summer hostesses. Take your pick!

Frozen coffee (called Coffee Granito) comes in a tall footed sherbet glass with a drift of whipped cream, its icy coolness to be savored from a long spoon. Coffee Cappuccino (named for the coffee-colored habits of the Capuchin monks of Italy) appears — half coffee, half milk plus a whisper of cinnamon. We've combined the two — and added that American favorite, chocolate ice cream — in a Capuchin Cooler.

Serve the Cooler at a porch party with a good snack. You'll need tall glasses and spoon-straws, or iced-coffee spoons and separate straws, for the Cooler. Put the snacks on large paper plates and let guests help themselves. Nowadays paper plates come in such attractive patterns and colors, with gold or silver borders, in Pennsylvania Dutch designs, in wood-grain effect, with polka dots and plaids. They come in all sizes, too: nine, eight, seven and six inches.

What snack to serve with the Cooler? We suggest rounds of paper-thin cucumber marinated in a mixture of vinegar, sugar and salt, then arranged on rounds of mayonnaise — spread bread and sprinkled with paprika.

If plain iced coffee or tea is to be the order of the party, you might like to serve these small open sandwiches made with both marinated cucumber and onion. In this case, just marinate paper-thin rounds of onion with the cucumber.

Another Guardsman's Commission Withheld Until Investigation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Coast Guard said today it has withheld a reserve officer's commission, pending a security review, from N. Pierre Gaston, a 23-year-old graduate of the Coast Guard Officer Candidate School.

In certain respects the case parallels that of Eugene Landy who was denied a Navy reserve commission after graduation from the Merchant Marine Academy.

Gaston's attorney, Murdaugh Madden, said his commission had been held back since April because his mother was alleged to be a member of or active in organizations cited by the attorney general as subversive.

She is Mrs. Jane Grisez, San Francisco.

Madden said Gaston ranked eighth in his class when he was graduated April 1 from the New London, Conn., school.

Landy, 21, second in his class at Kings Point, N. Y., reportedly was denied a commission because his mother had been a Communist.
